BOWLING

NORWAY FRATERNAL BOWLING LEAGUE

Knights of Pythias 1431; Masonic Club 1326

The Knights won the fifth straight game at the alleys, Thursday night, by trimming the Masonic Club with a margin of 105 pins. This gives the Pythians a fair hold on the cup unless the Eagles can break the clinch by winning steadily the next two weeks.

Every bowler on the Knights except "Scotty" Kilborn led his opponent. In this exception, "Scotty" and Chipman worked in a tie.

Charlie Huff led the whole field with a total of 298 and Boynton one pace behind with 290. "Blk" Smith was at the head of the procession for the Masonic Club with 279 and Chipman five pins in the rear.

Oxford 1501; Norway 1396

Oxford had it their own way at the alleys, Wednesday evening. They mopped up Norway with a lead of 105 pins; the team beat the three string alley record with 1501 and won the five-man single string mark with 537. It was sure a big night for the visitors and they motored home in a happy frame of mind.

As the balls rolled every Oxford bowler padded his average. Breton stepped high with 333 and Smith was in second position with 315. Breton also cleaned up 124 in the first string as the highest individual, with Heslop pulling down 115 in the same string for second.

Norway lost heavily in each string and unable to trig Oxford's machinery. Laurence Decoteau with 295 was high man for the home outfit. Boynton and "Novie" Smith fought for second place.

BASEBALL

Norway Grammar 36; Oxford Grammar 1

The game played at Oxford, Saturday afternoon, between the Grammar schools of Norway and Oxford was one of the old fashioned kind, featuring a big score. Oxford was unable to hit L. Decoteau, the Norway twirler, while Foster of Oxford, proved easy. The game went five innings and closed by mutual agreement.

Lineup and scores are as follows:

Oxford—Belanger, cf; Foster, p; Field, 1b; Richmond, 2b, 1 run; Hodgkins, 3b; Heslop, ss; Thurlow, rf; Smith, cf; Ellsworth, lf.
Norway—Holden, c, 2; Billings, 1b, 5; P. Brown, ss, 6; L. Decoteau, p, 6; H. Smith, c, cf, 6; E. McKay, 2b, 3; H. Whitman, rf, 3; E. Wentzel, 3b, 2; McAllister, lf, 2; Dow, 1.

Norway Grammar school will play South Paris Grammar school at that town, Saturday afternoon.

JOY RIDERS IN AUTO SMASH

Edward McGibbon and Lester Getchell both of Auburn, celebrated Easter Sunday with a joy ride from that city which ended in a wood pile at the head of Main St., Norway.

As alleged, the young men appropriated a Dodge touring car owned by Dr. J. A. Ness of Auburn, early Sunday evening and journeyed toward the White Mountains. Reaching Norway soon after nine o'clock, night officer Harry O. Stimson attempted to stop the happy pair who, it is alleged, were travelling at high speed. They paid no attention to the officer and he barely escaped a collision. The car dashed to the head of Main St., and unable to make the corner, headed toward the boat houses and collided with a pile of wood in C. B. Cummings & Sons' Co. mill yard. The car was wrecked but the occupants escaped harm and they disappeared in the darkness.

Sometime later the boys were overhauled by State Highway Patrolman Eugene Stevens, on the cement highway to Welchville. They were turned over to sheriff Erland Torrey at South Paris and passed the remainder of the night in the county jail.

Monday forenoon before Judge Wm. F. Jones in the Norway Municipal Court Getchell was arraigned for careless driving, found not guilty and discharged. McGibbon pleaded guilty to reckless driving and not possessing a license. He was fined $15 on each count. Unable to pay, he was committed. Both respondents were held immediately for the Auburn officers, charged with stealing and wrecking an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. French are here this week from Portland.

Harry Rust Women's Relief Corps will hold regular meeting Saturday night at K. of P. Hall, and following the business session, there will be a social hour and a penny lunch will be served. Members will invite their friends. All members not solicited will carry a plate of something good.

Grand Trunk superintendents have been here this week with a surveyor to relocate a number of side tracks. Tannery Brook bridge is being shortened by extending the abutments and iron stringers will replace the wooden ones. A report is current that the branch train may be taken off and freight business handled by a crew from the main line.

Arthur Benson has sold his stand on Beal Street. They will store their goods at West Paris for the summer where Mr. Benson will play ball.

Some very curious fish have been received at the Nash Taxidermist shop from the Bahama Islands. One is a cow fish, sort of a three cornered shape, and the other is the porcupine fish. Mrs. Nash is to stuff these.

Alfred Monk, Oneil Brown and Clifford Scothorne got a good lot of smelts at Sebago Lake, Saturday night.

THE FASHION SHOW AND MISS NORWAY

Votes are pouring in for the "Miss Norway" contest and about all of Ralph C. Andrews' spare time is consumed in sorting and counting slips. The contestants have many friends hustling for votes and the race is develop ng into a regular dash for "Miss Norway's" crown.

Many disqualifying votes are being cast; they are indefinite. As mentioned last week, a "Miss Black" or "Miss Gray" on a ballot is not a positive mark, although "Mary Black" or "Sarah Gray" may be in the line-up. Given names are necessary to put the ballots across and perhaps save the day.

Voters must also sign their own name and not merely two or three initials, according to Mr. Andrews' ruling. As an evidence of good faith and fairness to all in the contest, those who have cast votes will see to it that the full name appears. This little act of thoughtfulness will naturally lessen the work and speed up the slow task of sorting and counting.

Mrs. Mabel Perkins of Bridgton, manager of the Fashion Show, will soon take personal charge of arrangements for the big show to be presented May 15. The entertainment will be a four-in-one program, including a baby show, fashion revue, "Miss Norway" award and grand May ball. Plenty of excitement for one day, closing with a free triumphal trip in a Buick for "Miss Norway." Certainly the honor is worth the effort.

Look for the coupon on page 10 of this paper. The little slip is good for 25 votes and they count up fast when a bunch of hustlers pool their efforts.

Voting ceases April 29th when the votes must be in to be counted.

Hereafter the stores will issue 1 vote for every dollar or fractional part in trade. For example, $1 is good for 1 vote; sums between $1 and $2 are good for 2 votes and so on. Keep this in mind when making purchases and take advantage of the increase in the voting power of your money.

Following is the standing of the contestants above the hundred mark. The complete list may be examined at the E. N. Swett Shoe Co.

Winona Young	2,526
Velma Frank	2,111
Ruth Holt	1,555
Madelyn Hayden	1,527

LOCAL BASEBALL GAINING SPEED

The Pine Tree League is prospering and Clubs are practically organized. Buckfield and Turner will join for one strong outfit.

At West Paris enthusiasm runs high with everybody talking baseball. Volunteers are improving the diamond and outfield. They intend to have a real playing surface for speedy business.

Mechanic Falls has secured fifty-two pledges at $5 a throw for a beginning, also named the team "Waterfall" after the paper mill.

South Paris expects to enter the race and has a large list of candidates for trial.

Norway is getting set and has advanced rapidly since the meeting of delegates. Dell Rich and Dr. Swett are hustling with local and league arrangements for an early opening. Schedule committees from the several teams will meet at the high school gym this Thursday evening and prepare the summer lay-out.

The Norway team requires a name. A season ticket will be given the person who picks the name acceptable to the club. Think of some catchy and appropriate work suggestive of the town, write it on a slip of paper with your name, pass it along to Dr. Swett, Dell Rich or leave it at this office if more convenient.

Dr. Swett, treasurer of the league, states that practically all the teams have posted $25 each as a guarantee of good faith. This is a substantial beginning and has the ear marks of something solid and business like.

H. Leon Kimball, while employed on a job at Oxford, sprained the muscles in one hand and injured his back in a fall when the ladded upon which he was standing slipped. Mr. Kimball is having an enforced vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Everett have gone to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Crockett Record, Elm Hill, for the present. Mrs. Everett is ill at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Scothorne were in town from Auburn over the week end, the guests of Mrs. Fannie Frost, Paris St.

Abner Mann of West Paris visited his mother, Mrs. Emma Mann, Sunday, as she celebrated her birthday on that date.

Miss Della Holt, who has been in Florida this winter, returned home Friday evening.

Miss Frances Moore, who has been in Bermuda this winter, has returned home, and Miss Mary Jones came as far as Connecticut, stopping there for a visit. They were employed at the Bermudian hotel.

Miss Gretchen Eisenwinter has been a recent guest of Miss Frances Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hall of Saco were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hall over Easter.

Philip Bradbury, who has been very ill with mastoid trouble, is able to sit up and gets about the house a little.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Horne of Auburn were week end guests of Mrs. H. L. Horne.

Miss Marion Haskell presents in a violin recital, Miss Sylvia McKeen of West Paris, assisted by several pupils of Mrs. Ruth Huston at the Grange Hall, Wednesday evening, April 22. The recital is free to all.

All mothers who are interested in the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet will remember that it is to be held on Wednesday following Mothers' Sunday.

Owing to illness there will be no work at the Rebekah meeting on Friday night.

Don C. Seitz of New York has presented seven volumes of "Carpenter's World Travels" to the Public Library. The gift is appreciated by a large number of citizens interested in books outside of fiction.

Another old time picket fence disappeared this week. It divided the property of Harold A. Bailey and Dennie L. Joslin on Beal St. A modern wire fence is in its place.

Track walking has practically ceased on the Norway Branch. The Grand Trunk agents cooperated with the public in this matter and there was no friction. Persons were warned and in a pleasant way asked to "be good." Apparently this aroused no ill feeling for the grumblers are few.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wing of East Sumner were Sunday guests of his sister, Mrs. Etta Davis, Pearl Street.

Opening Trout Fishing Season

Brook fishing commenced three weeks earlier than usual. First trip was to the Town Farm brook, Friday, April 10. Nothing living was seen in the water except the wiggling angle worm on the hook. The birds sung, however, and the water run down through the barren land and leafless brush and trees. Summer and trout are on the way but not quite yet arrived.

Depot brook, Oxford, has the reputation of being early. Saturday, I visited it. Julius Fuller had previously told of trout being caught. I had high hopes. A hundred rods or so were fished in the meadow below the bridge. Nothing doing.

The Norway Advertiser has been telling of trout being caught out of this water this season. It even gave the name of George Jones of Oxford as catching 22 legal fish. Chas. Kimball, the life insurance man, saw them.

I fished up from the bridge near the depot to the overhead railroad bridge. Also I caught 2 small sized, red spotted beauties and restored them to the water. Several others were seen but of illegal length. Geo. P. Shaw of Oxford, game warden, seemed to know I was there and made me a visit. He wanted to see my license which fortunately I had. It was cheerfully shown. He told us that the ice had left Thompson Pond—I should have said Lake—and that "red spots" weighing a pound up were being caught at Hayes bridge. This is where Greeley brook crosses the road and fishing is allowed. All this brook in Oxford and Otisfield is closed to fishing. It was supposed that the Norway portion of the brook was closed but some how it escaped. This brook in Norway is called Lombard brook and will be closed to fishing 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

I hope all resident fishermen will remember and have their licenses with them when fishing and save trouble. Am told the wardens are instructed to bring all persons found fishing without a license before the court or a trial justice. Don't forget this.

Lombard brook, in Norway, was next visited. Here is where you always get 'em. I got two that tipped the scales on the six ounce notch. Both fish I mean. They were in excess of legal length. You know that legal length is six inches. Shorter length than that is expensive if you are overhauled by a warden. Take no chances. How do you suppose Mr. Shaw knew I was fishing on this brook? He evidently has a watchful eye.

"Bill Rich" brook in Harrison has been visited. Too much snow in the woods. No fish for me. The same was true at Twin Bridges over Crokoed River.

Charles Grover, who lives on the Gore in Otisfield, is building or having built, a hot dog establishment on the Harrison side of the river. He has a red painted, gasoline tank and a building under construction. Wm. H. Brackett and Albert Brackett were working on it. Will Brackett is the son of Josiah Brackett of Otisfield and he tells me his father is blind and is trying to get a state pension, but somehow the Otisfield selectmen are not over enthusiastic regarding it. His father is 77 years old.

James C. True is responsible for my visiting the two brooks, "Under Paris Hill" that cross the road before you get to Snow's Falls. He said he had heard that they were early.

Back of the Cole mill I almost got a fish. It dropped short and managed to get into the water. This was the only fish that disturbed.

Rocky Brook was looked over and tried but no trout seen.

West Paris was visited and the husband of your correspondent, S. T. White, was seen. Also R. L. Cummings and his new building that looms so mightily on Main Street. He tells us he is to advertise his cars in your paper pretty soon. Gammon & Martin, who succeed to the business of the late George W. Devine, were inspected. They have an enormous stock of goods. They carry almost everything that is needed.

Boys' and Girls' Clubs

The boys' and girls' clubs in Norway have reorganized for the season with Edward H. Brown leader of the boys. No leader has been appointed for the girls, but one will be found later.

The registration of boys to date is as follows:

Norway Village, Junior Garden Project, 14. Junior Chick Raising, 5; Junior Pig Project, 3.
Norway Lake, Junior Garden, 1.
Crockett Ridge, Junior Chick Raising, 2.
Norway, Center, Junior Garden, 3; Junior Potatoes, 2; Senior Garden, 3.
Girls' registration:

Officers for the boys' clubs have been elected as follows.

Garden Club:
Pres.—Edwin Smith.
V. Pres—Alberta Hosmer.
Treas.—Eugene Pride.
Chick Club:
Pres.—Paul Brown.
V. Pres.—Willard Young.
Sec.-Treas—Edmund McKay.

A meeting was held this week to draw up programs for the year.

George H. Bennett has finished the striping job at the Mason Manufacturing Co. and returned to painting wagons and sleighs in the shop on Whitman Street.

Traverse jurors were drawn Saturday for the May term of Supreme Judicial Court at Rumford. They are Dennis Pike and Guy R. Estes.

The Norway Auto Co. garage is being treated to a coat of red paint.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has sold the Frank Libby village farm at Steep Falls, Norway to Edna L. Thompson of Norway, who will add modern improvements to the buildings preparatory to occupancy.

Legion Minstrel tickets will be checked at Norway Opera House, Monday, April 20, at 7 p. m. Numbers will be given after 4 p. m., for position at the box office when the sale opens. Seats will be checked for both nights, so don't get confused.

Proprietor Bob Seavey has an Electrol automatic oil burner installed in the fire box under the boiler at Beals Tavern. Fuel is fed under pressure from a 1,000 gallon tank and the flame is controlled by a thermostat and spark plug ignition system. Chandler H. Barron of Lewiston installed the burner, with the assistance of L. M. Longley & Son.

Catherine Longley has been confined to her home with abscesses in her ear and has been quite ill.

John Downing of Bangor, a senior at the University of Maine, and specializing in horticultre, is apprentice teacher under Edward H. Brown in the Agricultural Department at the high school. This is his second week in this department.

Christian Endeavor meeting, Sunday, at 6:30 p. m., topic, "My Denomination: Its History and Principles." Leader, June Smith.

Practically every seat in the auditorium was occupied during the Easter service, Sunday morning. The sermon, "The Eternal Presence" was a message of cheer developed from the text, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the age." Excellent music was furnished by the chorus and soloists. Decorations were of potted plants arranged by Miss Rose Hamlin.

The Cantata, "My Redeemer Lives" was sung in the evening before a congregation that taxed the seating capacity of the church, George Horne of Lewiston assisted in the tenor section. The offering that amounted to a good sum will be used to purchase hymnals.

Junior Endeavor Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, topic, "Showing our colors." Leader, Rosalie E. Pike.

Sunday morning twenty were received into membership; six by letter and fourteen by confession and baptism. Six infants and children were baptized.

Universalist

The Easter service, Sunday afternoon, was of unusual interest and very impressive. The platform and pulpit were decorated with potted plants, Easter lilies predominating. The church was filled to the doors and the easter offering was very gratifying. The service and music as previously given was carried out in full.

Next Sunday, April 19, Rev. C. G. Miller will use as a text, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians," Acts 19:28. The usual choir will furnish music.

Easter was observed in the Sunday school with the following Easter program in charge of Harriet Waite:

Singing, "Hear We Now are Coming"
Easter service
Singing, "Easter Bells"
Prayer
Singing, "Love Divine All Love Excelling"
Reading ..... Marion Downing

..... Mrs. Danforth's class of girls

At the sunrise service at 6:30 there was a large attendance representing the young people's societies from the several churches. It was an Easter service in charge of Dorothy Tucker; Scripture reading, Ruth Holt; prayer, Phoebe Cobb. Several of the congregation assisted by speaking or reading. Adeline Decoster presided at the organ. The usual evening service was omitted that the young people might attend the Easter concert at the Congregational Church.

The Union will meet next Sunday at the usual hour. Topic: "What is Religion? What is its source and its purpose? What do the great religions of the world teach about God and about human associations?

Holy communion and the annual roll call were observed Thursday evening at the church vestry. A very interesting service was held. There was a large number present who responded to the roll call. Many absent members sent letters or quotations which were read. Several were admitted to church membership.

Next Sunday Marion Downing and her class of young girls will have charge of the opening services of the Sunday school.

Beginning the first Sunday in May, the regular church services and Sunday school will be held in the forenoon for the rest of the summer. The hour will be announced later.

Monday, Patriot's Day will be observed as annual clean-up day at the church and all are invited to come with their cleaning utensils. A dinner will be served to all workers.

The monthly meeting of the officers and teachers will be held at the home of Mrs. Mae Hutchins, Thursday evening, April 16, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Sunday school will have a hike early in May, to Mothers' Club, Norway Lake, where refreshments will be served and a general good time enjoyed.

The Ladies' Circle will meet with Mrs. S. B. Cummings, Friday afternoon.

Nerves all Unstrung?

Norway Folks Should Find the Cause and Correct It

Are you all worn out? Feel tired, nervous, half-sick? Do you have a constant backache; sharp twinges of pain, too, with dizzy spells and annoying urinary disorders? Then there's cause for worry and more cause to give your weakened kidneys prompt help. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Norway folks recommend Doan's for just such troubles.

John F. Sampson, Prop., painting establishment, 174 Main St., Norway, says: "I was tired, nervous and run down and my kidneys didn't act regularly. At times the secretions passed too frequently, then again they were scanty. My head ached night and day. A friend advised me to try Doan's Pills, so I sent to Stone's Drug Store for them. When I had finished taking Doan's, the trouble left and I haven't been bothered since."

EAST OTISFIELD

Most of the schools in town began this week. East Otisfield school will not begin for another week owing to the illness of the teacher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kemp. We are glad to be able to report them gaining. The South Otisfield school began one week ago, Miss Eva Bean, teacher.

H. M. Stone and family spent last Sunday with friends in Lewiston.

Mrs. Sadie Spiller Farrar of Portland with her daughter, Betty, has been visiting at her old home on Bell Hill with Mrs. Sylvenia Andrews and Mrs. Mabel Wilbur.

Easter Sunday

The Easter concert at East Otisfield under the supervision of the Sunday School Superintendent, Mrs. B. C. Jillson, was a great success. The children and young people did themselves great credit also their superintendent. The hall was decorated by the young people and in addition there was a beautiful display of cut flowers and potted plants, the gift of Mrs. G. T. Elliott, a wonderful woman, who believes in doing all the good she can. After lending grace and beauty to the hall and giving enjoyment to the people present, the plants went into many homes to give cheer for days to come.

A special Easter offering in which all present took a prominent part was taken up by two small girls, Marie Butler and Iva Edwards, after which the prayer of thanks was given by little Miss Lida Hamlin. The children all did fine.

There was special music by the choir at the morning service and concert. Mrs. Chester Lamb and Mrs. P. C. Greenleaf sang "Star of the East." In the evening, under the supervision of the pastor's wife, Mrs. E. P. Kimball, a pageant, "The Lord is Risen," was given by six members of the Sunday School besides the singers. They were dressed in Oriental costumes and took their parts finely. In all it was a very enjoyable Easter evening service.

At the opening services of the evening many old familiar gospel hymns were sung by the audience present and heartily enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Arthur Peaco is in Portland serving on the jury at the April term of court.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwards and children called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortier, Sunday afternoon.

Chester Lamb has bought a Chevrolet car.

SOUTH OTISFIELD

Howard Ames has sold two cows to Prentiss Fogg.

Mrs. Martha Brazier and Mabel Tenney attended the meeting at East Otisfield, Sunday.

Miss Eva Bean is teaching school at East Otisfield.

Carris Brooks is working for Mrs. Morris Kemp.

Eddie Jillson picked a bouquet of mayflowers, April 9.

Fletcher Scribner is painting the outside of his house. It looks fine.

OTISFIELD

Mrs. Gladys Hoyt and daughter, Ruth, called on Mrs. Peter Wood one day last week at East Otisfield. Mrs. Woods is in very poor health.

Frank Latulip remains about the same. He is still in bed.

Mrs. Eva Smith went to Norway last Saturday.

Nellie Denning and Ruth Hoyt picked a bunch of mayflowers, April 11.

Herbert Noble and wife of Harrison called on Mrs. Eugene Edwards last Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Denning visited her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Latulip, Sunday.

Gene Edwards and Jason Little worked for Mrs. Susie Moore, Saturday, putting roofing on her barn.

Mrs. Clinton Scribner, who has been very sick the past few weeks, is some better. Her sister, Mrs. Mabel Lowell, who has been caring for her, returned to her home in South Paris last week, Wednesday.

2:22 Trot and Pace, $500.

OXFORD

Easter services in the Methodist Church were a success and largely attended. The pastor deeply appreciated the assistance of all who had a part. The Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Percy Whitney, gave liberally of her time and effort to assemble and rehearse those taking part in the exercises.

Oliver J. Foss was housed several days with chills, shakes and the "don't-care-a-rap" feeling, probably influenza. He returned to the Fuller store, Tuesday, but decidedly under the weather.

Artists familiar to Norway people will go on the air from Station WEAF New York City, Saturday, April 18, from 9 to 10 p. m. Many of the artists are members of the Harrison Maine Music Colony who pass the summers at Long Lake.

Fore Street

News From Friends in the West

Maybe it would be of interest if I tell of the letters received lately, from Maine people "out West." One was from Mrs. Guy Stevens. Mr. Stevens was once a well known boy of Norway and Mrs. Stevens a South Paris girl, Myra Haggett. She writes of their splendid trip to New Mexico by way of Montreal, how they enjoyed every minute of the trip. The children, she and Mr. Stevens being well all the time and how well they like where they are at Raton, New Mexico, 6,600 feet above sea level among the mountains, warm and scarcely any rain, with occasionally a strong, cool wind, plenty of play room for the children out doors and work for Mr. Stevens. She also speaks of home news read in the Advertiser. How they now want to see even more of the United States, the scenery so wonderful, before they come back east.

The other letter is from Mrs. Alanson Cummings. Long Beach, California, formerly of West Paris. She writes of she and Mr. Cummings going to the Long Beach Harbor when the Atlantic and Pacific fleets were there, of the wonderful illuminations of the ships, the search lights, how one of the three nights she and Mr. Cummings, who was a sailor during the late war, were invited by a sailor from the U. S. S. Oklahoma to attend the Men's Service Club dance on the pier where only those who had written invitations or were in uniform or in company with someone in uniform were allowed, what a wonderful event it was to them. Mr. Cummings is now working as clerk and salesman for Bennett & Son of Long Beach, while Mrs. Cummings makes the home in a cosy cabin of two rooms, writing to her friends and people back home of the enjoyable climate and genial, warm-hearted friends made there and incidentally of the fresh fruit, berries and vegetables easily procurable there all winter long, of the delightful out door trips and health and happiness thus far of them both despite the longing now and then for a sight of the loved ones back East.

Miss Etta Knightly of South Paris was a Sunday guest of Miss Chestina Twitchtell.

The Oxford, Fore St., Circle met with Mrs. E. E. Twitchell, Thursday. The Snipping Party was a success as all articles were "snipped" and a goodly sum added to the treasury. A few squares of patchwork were sewed to complete the quilt being made. Light refreshments of punch and fancy crackers were served and a pleasant social time enjoyed. Those present were the President, Mrs. May Twitchell; Treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Twitchell; Secretary, Mrs. Harriet Stanton; also Miss Ida Mayberry, Mrs. Louis Talbot, Miss Elizabeth Twitchelll, Miss Chestina Twitchell, Mrs. Mary Allen, Flora Cummings and the hostess, Mrs. Frances C. Twitchell.

E. E. Twitchell went to Portland, the 13th, on business.

Al Twitchell is carpentering for Flora Cummings.

Mr. Green, who drove the Cushman bakery team this winter, has severed his connections with them and is now working with Bill Twitchell at West Paris.

Allen Hill

Roy Wilkie is shingling Frank Manson's barn.

Roy Wilkie and wife went to Harrison, Sunday, and brought Mrs. Wilkie's mother, Mrs. Stokes, home with them for a visit.

Alvin Lovejoy and Charles Hirst and daughter were at John Lamb's, Sunday.

Dayton Whitman is better now so he is working some again.

Rose Cobb is in the hospital for treatment. Her stomach has been bad all winter.

The road over Allen ill is in pretty good shape. They fixed it last week.

EAST OXFORD

Alice Teague, R. N., of Boston, Mass., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Teague, for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Felton and son, Rexford, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Felton, at West Paris, Sunday.

Edward Brown of Bryant Pond was in this place, Sunday.

Miss Iva Records, a teacher in Sunapee, N. H., visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Records, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Records, recently.

WELCHVILLE

The preaching services at Welchville next Sunday will be held at 7 o'clock in the evening, and not at 2 o'clock as is the custom. Sunday school will be held at 1 o'clock as usual.

The following pupils had 100 per cent. in spelling for the week ending April 10: G. Elwyn Brooks Lilyrose M. Daniels Methyl B. Coy

CASCO

Milton Hancock is convalescing after a severe illness from pneumonia.

Mark Leach accompanied by Miss Compton, attended the funeral of Mrs. Ella Burnham of Bridgton, Saturday. Mrs. Burnham was a niece of Mr. Leach and made her home with him when young.

The Casco High School principal and pupils arrived home from Washington, and report a most delightful trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer and son of Portland were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitney.

The high school and grammar schools of Casco are all in session again, after a Spring vacation. Teachers and pupils all sympathize with their superintendent, Miss Bertha Tenney, in the recent loss of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. West and two children of Portland are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Durand.

Very few sons-in-law are chosen by their fathers-in-law. Mothers-in-law do the choosing.

Lay Bird's Shingle Design Roll Roofing right over your old roof!

1. Costs less than wooden shingles.
2. Saves time — laid without ripping off old shingles with consequent litter and dirt.
3. Makes a permanent, double roof that keeps out the cold of winter and the scorching heat of summer.
4. Is waterproof, spark-proof and handsome. Comes with decorative red or green slate surfacing.

Bird's Shingle Design Roll Roofing is made by Bird & Son, inc. (Est. 1795), manufacturers of Neponset Twin Shingles, Paroid Roofing, Neponset Black Building Paper and Neponset Board. There's a Bird product for every sort of building!

We are headquarters for Bird's roofings, building papers and wall board.

Authorized Ford Dealers

An Authorized Ford Dealer has too much at stake to sell a car which will prove a disappointment.

Therefore, he will sell you a good used car carrying the same guarantee as a new car.

His investment in garage and service equipment, the good will he has built up and his connection with the Ford Motor Company are assets too valuable for him to jeopardize with one unsatisfactory sale.

That is one very good reason why you can buy a used Ford car with full confidence that it has the value claimed for it.

Will Haskell has returned to town after passing the winter in New Hampshire with his daughter and family.

Percy Grover came home from the C. M. G. Hospital, Sunday, where he has been for surgical treatment.

Edward Wight has gone back to Rockwood to work where he has been employed for the past year.

Walter Whitman of Otisfield Gore has bought and moved into the late George Cummings' home here.

Mrs. Martin Merrow is able to be out again, she was sick the past week. Mrs. Maud Winslow was helping her for a few days.

Mrs. Mabel Jillson and Mrs. Ethel Skillings are helping Miss Cook clean house.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Stewart were Sunday guests at Bert Weston's.

Lots of sickness in town. Velma, the little daughter of Clint Scribner, has rheumatic fever. Mrs. E. L. Gay has been sick; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weston, also Mr. Weston's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hicks called on Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chute, Sunday evening.

Rev. S. W. Carne of Gorham was in town last Monday, called here to attend the funeral of Orin Hancock, who passed away, April 3, after a long sickness. Mr. Carne called on the sick ones and many friends here. All were glad to see his cheery face and hear his words of comfort.

"Ott" Moulton and George Losier were in town, Saturday night. We wonder if they are on the "detective force."

Thursday, April 2, was the regular meeting of the Masons. D. D. G. M. Lester D. Bryant was present and inspected the work. There were three candidates for the M. M. degree, Norton S. Jillson, Paul Walker and Everett Chapman. In spite of the bad traveling there was a good attendance and a baked-bean supper was enjoyed by all.

People are beginning to plant their early gardens.

Jason Scribner has planted his garden.

Mrs. Zeline Hancock's sister, Miss Florence Madore, and friend, Philip Bailey, of Dover are stopping with her awhile.

Martin Merrow has planted peas, onions, etc.

Guy Fox, Clifton Lord, Ernest and Frank Roberts took a trip to Sebago one night last week, fishing.

Clifton Lord and Ernest Roberts have finished cutting wood for E. R. Garland.

Orrison Libby and wife, who have been very sick, are reported a little better at this writing.

Gertie Roberts picked some mayflowers which were in full bloom, April 11.

Lawrence Eastman was in this part of the town, fishing, one day last week.

H. B. Pratt of Kezar Falls was in this vicinity, Saturday, selling Chevrolet cars.

On account of sickness, Rev. Arthur A. Callahan, the Methodist preacher at Kezar Falls, was unable to hold Easter services at the Union church.

W. B. and J. S. Pendexter were among the Sunday callers at Andrew Varney's.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Day visited their son, Perley, and family, Sunday.

F. L. Roberts purchased a Ford car of Herbert Chapman, recently.

HOME GROWN FEEDS FOR WESTERN MAINE

By L. E. McIntire

For a number of years we have owned seventy head or more of Holstein cattle that require a lot of feed summer and winter. After the first of July our pastures furnish good water, pure air and exercise but not much else. We were faced with the problem of how to feed them. If we fed all hay through the summer we would be short before the next spirng. We have two good sized silos, so when we have a good corn crop we have silage most of the summer, but to guard against a shortage we sow barley for green feed, the first sowing so it will be ready by the first of August. We plan to have other pieces coming along about ten days apart. We begin cutting as soon as it will do for green feed and continue until the next piece is ready, then we cut the balance and make it into hay. This is the way we treat each piece. I want to add that barley cut at the right stage and well cured makes some of our best hay.

By the time the barley is fed out or made into hay, our second crop of clover is ready to use from green feed. We treat this the same as the barley, with this exception, if we think we will need more hay we cut and dry some. We most always put some in the silo as it makes good silage. By this time corn is ready to use, and we feed that until the last goes into the silo. We plan to grow squash and pumpkins around the edges of our corn fields where they will be out of the way. These with cull apples and potatoes run through the power root cutter make fine feed.

We feed this mixture while the silos are cooking and cooling off. When that is gone we have to open the silos and begin on our winter feed. All through the summer we feed some good hay with the green feed. We think it pays. We also grow five or six hundred bushels of beets. These are most all held for winter feeding, while they cost more to grow than silage they are a valuable feed.

Outside of the grain we have to buy, with this system, it is possible to maintain seventy head of cattle and five horses and have hay to spare on eighty acres of land. Of course you understand there are no idle acres.

SECRET OF GETTING ON WITH MEN

Being able to get on well with men isn't a trick that somebody can teach you. The spirit of humaness, or kindness, or whatever you want to call it, has to be born in a man. Some men simply have it. Others haven't. It so happens that some people are born with a genuine feeling of—well, you might call it warmness towards their fellowmen. He likes people. He likes to help other fellows to get along and gets more fun out of his work than out of anything else. He is very fond of all the "boys," and if he finds that some of them think he plays fair and square with them he is gratified to know it.

Marcus Aurelius must have written this on a Blue Monday: "Do not then consider life a thing of any value. For look to the immensity of the time behind thee, and to the time in front of thee, another boundless space. In this infinity what is the difference between him who lives three days and him who lives three generations?" All right, we'll bite—what is the difference?

BRYANT POND

The Junior class of Woodstock High school held a social at the schoolhouse, Friday night. Games and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. There was a large attendance. $21.85 was cleared. Music was furnished by Mrs. Colby Ring, Laforest McDaniels and George Forbes, Jr.

Easter services were held at the Baptist church Sunday forenoon and in the evening an Easter concert was held. The church was filled and the exercises were fine. The flowers in the church were beautiful. The concert consisted of songs and recitations by the children, music by the choir.

Dexter Peverly has returned home from the hospital in Massachusetts. His daughter, Mrs. Fannie Littlefield, went to Massachusetts with him and is here with her parents now.

Charles Swan of Bethel was in town, Saturday.

THE SMALL FRUIT GARDEN FOR THE HOME

No home owner has yet appeared who cannot be tempted by the satisfaction of fresh berries right from the garden or by some of the products manufactured from the surplus small fruits and brought from the stored supplies in mid-winter.

The ease with which this range of valued articles of diet can be produced in ones own garden and the real saving in dollars and cents which can be realized by growing berries is sufficient argument to warrant a general recommendation of more home gardens for small fruits.

The variety of fruits which can be produced in these small gardens located near the kitchen, is sufficiently wide in range so that the most fastidious may select a combination certain to appeal to the appetites of the family.

Probably most individuals in planning a supply of small fruits for the family will think first of strawberries as the quickest berry to grow and ripen in the spring. By consulting the nurseryman's catalogs it is easy to choose a series of varieties which will ripen in succession so that the period during which ripe berries can be picked will extend over a period of nearly five or six weeks in length. Raspberries, currents and gooseberries will follow along in close order and it is not out of place to include some of the domesticated blueberries to give variety to the assortment through July and early August. Every lover of strawberries will want a few everbearing plants to supply this berry again after the middle of August on until freezing weather. Blackberries will come also in this period and the fall bearing raspberry will continue to produce fine fruits even after many frosty nights. Thus it is that a supply of fresh fruits may be available almost constantly from the middle of June (sometimes earlier) until Jack Frost appears with his supply of ice crystals to announce that winter is almost here again.

Your own will causes you more trouble than your outside enemies.

Whist

At the public whist last week on Tuesday evening, the first prize went to F. P. Bennett and the consolation to Frank Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Libby of South Portland were in town the past week to attend the funeral of her grandfather, Lewis L. Jackson.

Mrs. Clara Trafton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lynton Harmon at their new home on Waterford Road.

Samuel Walker of Lawrence, Mass., is spending some time in town.

Lewis L. Jackson

Lewis L. Jackson passed away very suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Freeman Whitney, on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Jackson was born in South Paris, 82 years ago last February and made his home there for a number of years. Later he went to Gorham, N. H., where he conducted a hotel and livery business and later was in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railroad until retired. He then returned to South Paris where he made his home until about a year ago when he came to live with Mrs. Whitney. At one time he resided in Portland.

He was a veteran of the Civil War. Besides the daughter, Mrs. Freeman Whitney of Harrison, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Emma Kerr, and a son, William Jackson, both of South Paris and a number of grandchildren.

On Saturday at 11:30 A. M., a prayer was made at the home on Main St. by Rev. L. W. Witham, after which the body was taken to Pine Grove cemetery at South Paris, where brief services were held, conducted by Rev. C. G. Miller of the Universalist church. The G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans attended in a body and the G. A. R. held their impressive service. The bearers were four of the grandsons, Clarence and Howard Jackson and Robert and Harry Kerr, all of South Paris. There were many beautiful flowers.

Geo. A. Flint went to Portland, Tuesday where he is serving on the jury.

Mrs. Louise Foster returned, the past week, to her home on School St., where she is ill with a severe cold.

Helen M. Stevens of Floral Lawn Farm spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Flint on High St.

Leon Burnham, engineer on the B. & S. R. R., has been ill at his home on Front St. with the grip. Arthur Smith assisted on the train during his absence.

Mrs. H. O. Kneeland is still very ill at her home on School St. Mrs. Bessie Powers is assisting in the care of Mrs. Kneeland.

Bertha Powers has a line of spring hats on display at her home on Elm St. Mrs. Jennie Burnham also has a few models from Miss Shorey's at Brunswick.

Mrs. Leonard Carsley is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. Howard Randall, at South Harrison.

Mrs. Hannah A. Bradeen and Mrs. Flora Walker returned to their home in Norway, Friday. Mrs. Bradeen has been ill for a number of weeks at the home of her niece, Mrs. John Keene, and her sister, Mrs. Walker, has been caring for her.

The Advertiser is on sale at "The Country Shop." 25 votes for "Miss Harrison" on page 10.

By the will of the late Mrs. Almeda F. Whitney, a former resident of this town for many years, a bequest of $100 was given the Congregational church of which she was a devoted member for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Kneeland and family have moved to the upstairs rent in the parsonage on School St.

Lynton Harmon opened his garage on Waterford Road the past week. This is known as "Harmon's Garage" and plenty of work is assured Mr. Harmon, who is an expert machinist. He plans to personally attend to all work this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Harmon are settled in their new home near the garage.

Artists from the Harrison Maine Music Colony will go on the air Saturday, April 18, from 9 to 10 p. m. Broadcasting will be from station WEAF, New York City. Set your dials, and if atmospheric conditions are kind, our old favorites may return for a time long before vacation season opens.

MILTON

Mrs. Sadie Lapham and son, Clyde Lapham, Ward Spring and Clara Ethridge of Norway, spent Sunday at Gilman Buck's.

Bert Carver and Merle Bean spent Saturday at Ernest Billings'.

Daisy Buck has a flock of sheep of eight which has thirteen lambs, five have had six pair of twins and only one sheep had one, yet lost two lambs and one sheep. The sheep lost got hurt, so this is good for the number of sheep. The head of the flock is a registered Chivot.

Clara Jackson spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jackson. Other callers there were Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Linnell, on Sunday.

Verne Jackson spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Francis Lapham, and went back with his car to Locke's Mills, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Buck and children spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brawn, at Bryant Pond.

Urban Buck was home, Saturday night and Sunday from his work at Hanover.

Mrs. Francis Lapham is very poorly after having the grippe.

Mrs. Daisy Buck has been helping Ella Wilson clean house, also is helping Mrs. Lapham about her work.

People spend too much money on style. But if there were no style people would spend money on something else.

Ailing Children

A Reason

Give them proper food and clothing, plenty of outdoor life and exercise. Watch them closely to prevent constipation and keep the bowel action free and regular.

If they appear nervous, restless in their sleep, with poor appetite, at times abnormally hungry, feverish, fetid breath—worms may be causing these symptoms. In such cases a teaspoonful of the safe old "L. F." ATWOOD'S Medicine at night, and a small dose before a light breakfast the following morning is entirely harmless and will settle any doubt. Lots of mothers know this and have brought up their families with entire reliance in the value of the "L F." Small dose, big bottle 50 cents.

ON DEATH OF MRS. M. L. HALL

When I looked over the deaths in the Advertiser this morning, I was saddened when I read the death of Mrs. Margaret L. Hall of Naples. "Dear Aunt Peggy" we loved to call her and she almost taught us to call her that, and as the years went by and we learned more and more what a good, true friend she was, she seemed like a dear relative indeed. There never was a truer friend, what she professed to be, she was. She has had a long life and many things to test her courage. Although she spent her life in the little town of Naples she had a wonderfully broad outlook on things generally and a courage that seemed undaunted. She was the last of her family and the last of the older generation of the little village where her life was spent and the younger ones left will surely miss "Aunt Peggy." She was always ready for a good time and took part in the neighborhood entertainments as she was in good health regardless of her eighty odd years; in spirit she never grew old.—A Friend, Washington, D. C.

THE OLD TIME BLACKSMITH

By Frederick Marshall Davis
(Written for Norway Advertiser)

Just down the street I often meet
The blacksmith, bent and old,
With business gone, he looks forlorn,
His forge is still and cold.

He used to sing his songs so gay,
It really is no joke—
His anvil does not ring today,
His hammer handle's broke.

He likes to hear the neighbors' lies
That loaf around the door,
He likes to sit and watch the flies
That crawl upon the floor.

It's there no more outside the door,
The tree that once did spread,
That made a shade where children played,
It's withered now and dead.

His hands are rough, his voice is gruff,
Just like the lion's roar,
Instead of sparks, we hear remarks
That mean he's getting sore.

He calls the children cruel names
And each a dirty snipe,
The only flame he ever makes
Is when he lights his pipe.

He never holds them in the air,
Nor strokes a curly head,
They only make him curse and swear,
He kicks them out instead.

On Sunday when he goes to church
And tries to preach and pray,
The parish leave him in the lurch,
They start and go away.

Without a sound he looks around
And views in silence dead
A spoke, a wheel, and bars of steel
And cobwebs overhead.

Time's rapid pace has left a trace,
He's been a friend to all,
With work well done, like a top that's spun,
He must tremble soon and fall.

At home he'll rest with those he loves best,
Where hearts are warm and light,
Like a miser old he'll count his gold
And watch the fire bright.

While resting there in his easy chair,
He'll dream of the hammer's ding,
He'll hear its chimes and keep with the times,
And ride in a limousine.

MY WORK

I cannot sing a mighty song,
To echo down the years,
Whose strains melodious shall move
The listeners to tears;
But there's a loving little lay,
A tender lilting thing,
And that, perhaps, is better than
The song I cannot sing.

I cannot write a splendid book,
To stir the hearts of men;
My hand betrays no skill at all
Of pencil or of pen;
But there's a letter to my friend,
To cheer him through the night,
And that, perhaps, is better than
The book I cannot write.

I cannot do heroic deeds,
To win the world's applause;
Perhaps my strength would fail me quite,
Though glorious the cause,
But there are many little deeds
That each day brings anew,
And those perhaps are better than
The deeds I cannot do.

And so from day to day I go,
Content with what is mine
Because the work that I can do
Is part of God's design.
I do not care if other names
Upon Fame's scroll may be;
I know the work that I can do
Is always best for me.

FUDGE

Take two cups of sugar, and one of milk,
Of chocolate—the unsweetend kind—
One-fourth of a pound, and of butter a lump
Like a walnut is ample, you'll find.

Melt all of the chocolate over the steam
Of a kettle that merrily sings;
And you may sing, too, as you busily stir
In one saucepan these various things.

Now beat well together, and set them to boil
Ten minutes, or fifteen at need—
But stir all the time with a long kitchen spoon,
If your "fudge" would be "fudgy" indeed.

When it thickens enough to lift off the stove,
Pour in your vanilla to taste;
Then beat it again, with a light skillful hand,
You have two or three minutes to waste—

While cook greases the pan; just keep stirring around
Remember 'tis not work, but fun.
Then pour out your candy and set it to cool,
And when it is very near done,

Cut into small squares, just the size of a bite,
And pass it around with a will,
For when that has vanished, 'tis easy again
The pans with fresh candy to fill.

TEN DOLLARS FOR A SLOGAN

A prize of $10 for the best slogan expressive of loyalty to Maine is offered by the general committee in charge of the campaign to encourage a greater use of Maine's industrial and agricultural products. It is the intention of the committee to begin on Patriots' Day a State-wide canvass for signatures to a form of pledge, declaring not only loyalty to Maine and its products, but an interest in the beautification of the community and the State, and a pledge of courteous and hospitable treatment of visitors within the State.

The slogan for which the prize if offered will adorn a campaign button. Every member of a boys' or a girls' organization will be given one of these buttons.

As the button is no larger than a nickel the number of words in the slogan must necessarily be very few.

The contest will close May 1. In case of duplication of the slogan selected by the judges, the author of the first one received will be declared the winner of the prize.

Suggestions for a slogan should be mailed to A. L. T. Cummings, Room 49, City Hall, Portland, secretary of the "Know Maine Products" general committee. The judges are William G. Huntoon industrial agent of the Maine Central; Dr. A. O. Thomas, commissioner of education; Roland T. Patten, publisher, Skowhegan; Miss Marian Brainerd of the State Library representing the Business and Professional Women's Clubs; A. L. T. Cummings, manager of the State Chamber of Commerce.

WEST SUMNER

Easter was not a very pleasant day, first it snowed, then the wind blew hard and very cold.

Mr. and Mrs. John Foster will return to South Paris, Saturday. Mrs. Foster has been caring for her mother, Mrs. Freeman Farrar.

Neighbors and friends of Mrs. W. H. Eastman of East Sumner gave her a card shower, Saturday. She received nearly 200 cards. She is dearly beloved by all.

K. W. Spaulding was in the village on business the first of the week.

We are sorry to learn of the sickness of E. R. H. Stetson of East Sumner.

Mrs. Ella Chandler's mill has been running many weeks. A large amount of lumber has been brought in.

PLANTING FOREST TREES

"Fifty forest tree planting demonstrations are to be held this spring throughout the State, the purpose of which is to demonstrate the value of planting forest trees on idle land which is not suitable for growing other farm crops," is the announcement made by M. E. Watson, Forestry Specialist of the Extension Service, under whose direction the planting will be done.

"Farmers of Maine are fast realizing that waste land planted to forest trees is a good investment," said Mr. Watson, in discussing this work. "Practically every farm in Maine has some idle or waste land which undoubtedly could be made to grow trees profitably. In many cases trees are the only crop that can be successfully grown on these areas where the soil is too poor to produce agricultural crops to advantage. A few acres of waste land planted to forest trees will produce valuable timber. The immediate cost is small, the future outlay is little and the margin of profit is surprising.

"It is not the purpose of farm forestry to encroach on agricultural lands, by the planting of the more fertile land, but rather to make use of the non-fertile or uncultivated land, or in other words, to put every acre of land on the farm to its best and most profitable use.

"The cost of management, the time required for the production of the crop and the value of the crop when matured must be considered in making the selection of trees to plant since the primary object of forest planting is to secure the highest possible returns for the wood and other forestry products.

"White pine is the most rapid growing native coniferous tree in Maine and also the most valuable. It is the most popular tree for forest planting by the farm woodlot owner. The setting of seedling trees from one to three years old is much preferred to sowing the seed directly on the areas to be reforested. The setting of small seedlings will give quicker results with the trees more evenly spaced and assure a better and more uniform growth.

"Fifteen planting demonstrations were made by farmers under the direction of the Extension Service, University of Maine. An inspection of the demonstration plots in the Fall showed the loss was three per cent. There were 23,320 trees planted on approximately 20 acres at these demonstrations with a total cost of $14.30 per acre.

"Among the many reasons why forest planting will pay the farmer are: The cost of establishing and caring for the forest crop is small; there is forever a need of lumber for construction purposes about the farm and also cord wood for fuel; there is a good market for lumber and firewood; the poorest soil on the farm can be utilized; there is a constant increase in the value of land with growing timber upon it; trees greatly increase the actual financial value of farm property.

NEW ENGLAND CROPS

Farmers, in planning current crop acreages, have mostly looked for guidance to prices they received for crops of the previous year. Reports from fifty thousand farmers over the country show that this is their main dependence in plans for 1925 acreages which apparently will be increased in many cases above last year's figures.

In late years more persons in other business, and more farmers, too, are making their plans not so much upon prices received for goods or crops already produced as upon prospective prices for what they expect to produce. This method tends to stabalize production and bring it into proper balance with demand. It helps to avoid both excess production and waste and also deficient supplies. All business is more successful and prosperous when production in the different commodities and crops is balanced with demand.

For New England dairymen the more important phases of intended acreages of crops for the country are the expected increases over last year of 14 per cent. in spring wheat; 2.3 per cent. in corn; 5.6 per cent. in oats; and 23 per cent. in barley. If these plans go through and yields are average or better, prices for feeds that New England farmers must buy should be lower than at present because the country has fewer hogs, cattle and horses to feed.

New England farmers are considering acreage increases of 4 per cent to 15 per cent in corn; 5 per cent to 30 per cent in oats; large but uncertain increases in wheat and some increase in other grains. This is an effort to reduce the large expense for feeds bought. Tame hay acreage generally is likely to remain about the same as last year. Low prices the past year for fluid milk and for young dairy cattle have caused material reductions in numbers of young neat stock in northern New England. The present number of cows is adequate but conditions have become more favorable for the raising of more of the better grade heifers for use or sale later as milk cows.

When Children Cough Act Quickly

Watch your child closely when he gets a "cold" and begins to cough. Many a case of croup and serious illness has been turned aside with a few doses of that fine old medicine, Kemp's Balsam. Act promptly. Don't be discouraged because ordinary cough syrups fail to help—stick to Kemp's Balsam. Just a few doses bring the relief you are looking for. Only 30 cents at all stores.

REFORESTING MAINE

There are few farms that do not include some portion that is better suited to forest growth than to anything else.

It is a sad sight to see so much of our State unforested and even lying idle when we know that it all was once rich with heavy timber. Much of such waste land has not even a seed-tree left so that if ever it bears pines again it must be planted. Wherever possible it is better to resort to natural seeding. Timber should be cut as soon as possible following a good seed-year and hardwood sprouts must be kept cut down. After cutting enough seed trees left scattered over a lot will spread widely, then if the hardwood sprouts are kept cut down a good growing timber lot will result. Prevailing dry winds from the west and northwest will scatter seed from a timberlot to land adjacent easterly and southeasterly.

Hardwood sprouts in young pines are like pigweed in corn and potatoes and should be kept down to allow the pines to grow. On other, older lots where neglect has allowed pines to be mixed with hardwoods so that the hardwoods are either overtopping the pines or rubbing against their tops and hindering their growth or bending the tops so that they are making the pines ill-shaped the hardwoods must be entirely removed. It would be far better to give them away than to leave them but usually the wood will pay for the labor and often a little something more.

A large proportion of the wealth of the State of Maine lies in her fifteen million acres of forests which cover more than three-fourths of her total land area. It is well therefore that we care for that wealth and do not defraud coming generations of that of which we have had such great use.

SUMMER CAMPS AND COTTAGES

The popularity of the summer camps and cottages by lake or sea is now thoroughly established and there is every reason to believe that it will never cease. There are so many benefits to be derived from a summer camp or cottage, either beside salt water of fresh, that they quite outweigh any arguments that exist against them. The matter of expense enters into the case hardly at all for it has been proven that one may live in a summer camp as cheaply as in one's own home. The cost of the camp is also comparatively unimportant for one may get a little piece of land on the shore of some lake, or by the sea, for a very small sum and a camp or cottage may be erected for an outlay of a comparatively few dollars. A camp can be cheaply built because it does not have to be finished elaborately and it may be small in size because camp life is life in the open and the house is used only as a sleeping place or for a shelter in inclement weather. In fact the popular idea now is to sleep out of doors as much as possible and the results upon the human system ans indeed wonderful.

Everyone needs some kind of a change during the course of the year and the more extreme it is the better. The person who lives inland should go each year to the seashore so as to receive the rejuvenating effects of the salty atmosphere of the ocean. On the other hand a person who resides by the seashore should go inland annually in order to obtain the beneficial effects of its clear, dry air.

Maine is the ideal spot for the summer camp. It has the most beautiful sea coast on the Atlantic seaboard, 2500 miles in length, and it also has 2500 superb lakes and ponds. There are innumerable available sites for cottages of every description on both the seacoast and the shores of the lakes and they may be obtained at a reasonable cost.

RELATION OF THE DAIRY HERD TO HEALTH

Food is the most important factor that is related to man's physical welfare, a truth not sufficiently emphasized. A consideration of the various foods leads to the conclusion that milk should be placed in the front rank if it is not the foremost. Its critical relation to the development of the young and the large place it occupies in the diet of adults seem to justify this conclusion. No food has entered more fully into public discussion and no apology should be offered for continuing this discussion because of the intimate relation of milk to the public health. It is clearly the most dangerous food, under certain conditions that has a wide distribution. There are good reasons why it has been made the object of much scientific inquiry as to its production and care and the subject of numerous legislative measures.

At this time milk will be discussed from two points of view, (1) its food value and (2) its sanitation.

The physical development of children is a matter of supreme importance. It is in this relation that milk functions as does no other food. The superiority of milk as a food for growth lies mainly in three facts: (1). The relative high efficiency of milk proteins for tissue growth, (2) the general avoidance of intestinal fermentation when milk sugar is the only carbohydrate food and (3) the presence in milk of two essential vitamines—perhaps the most important of any.

The assertion seems justified that there is no food the consumption of which is attended with such danger to health as is the case with milk. It is, under certain conditions, a carrier of some of our most dangerous diseases such as tuberculosis, scarlet and typhoid fevers, and also when rendered unsound by fermentations due to unsanitary conditions on the farm and in distribution it is a menace to very young children.

Cross-Word Items

Dear Sir: I am sending in the answer for the Cross-Word puzzle whether it is right or not remains a puzzle. I have been rather against this puzzle business back along and almost threatened to stop all papers, but now I have changed my mind. This puzzle is the second one I have worked on and I am getting rather interested in them, but I am unable to do any work, so I am putting my time now into the puzzles. They are all right in their places and to take as a pastime, but where you leave your work and put all your time into them, it is just simply Hades.—Mrs. A. B. K.

Dear Editor: I have worked a long time on this puzzle. It is a hard one to solve. I am not sure if it is correct, as I can't find 16 vertical nor 38 horizontal in my dictionary, but it is the only way I could solve it. Am glad to see so many names on the list.—Mrs. A. C. B.

Parish Meeting

The Universalist parish held their annual business meeting, Tuesday evening, March 30. Supper was served to a good sized company previous to the meeting. Rev. Stanley Manning of Augusta, Superintendent of Universalist churches, was present. Reports of various organizations showed good work has been done. Officers elected as follows:

Moderator—H. H. Wardwell.
Clerk—Harold Perham.
Treas.—L. C. Bates.
Trustees—A. C. Perham, R. E. Chase, Mrs. Abbie Abbott.

Five joined the parish. Rev. Manning gave an interesting talk on local church work and its relation to the State and General Conventions. He outlined the five year program for raising a million dollars for church extension work. The parish accepted their quota of $250 yearly. A gift of $50 was voted to Geo. Swan for his past services as janitor which have been gratuitous. Rev. E. B. Forbes was asked to remain with an increase of $200 salary.

Senior Drama

The Senior drama last week, Thursday, was cute and very good. All took their parts fine. There were four acts and the title was "Dr. Jim." Following is the cast of characters:

Doctor Jim, a young physician ..... Gordon Abbott
Ephraim Goodenough, Jim's father ..... Charles Perkins
Lafe Goodenough, a woman hater ..... Keith Emery
Orla T. Baker of the Royal Grand Oil Corp. ..... Leroy Abbott
Nate Spooner, an amateur detective ..... Harold Buck
Frank Randolph, Jim's College chum ..... Gerald Day
Sam Johnson, a colored errand boy ..... George Flavin
Martha Goodenough, Jim's mother ..... Doris Richardson
Mary Jane Wheeler, a man hater ..... Helen Packard
Miss Tabitha Tuttle, looking for her Romeo ..... Margaret Lane
Bess Goodenough, Jim's cousin ..... Valeria Houle
Fanny Burton, Jim's fiance ..... Annie Curtis
Madge Hughes, Bess's chum ..... Sylvia McKeen
Hannah Spriggins, a would-be movie star ..... Ruth Curtis

The first act, late May or early June, in the Goodnough home. Dr. Jim is expected home, a full fledged physician. Second act, the same place a day later, his arrival. Third act, a week later in Dr. Jim's office, the young lady friends feign illness just for an excuse to call on the young doctor, also his college chum appears in disguise for treatment and surprises him. Act four, a month later in the town hall, a Masquerade Ball. Bess' chum is the may queen. All are paired off for a dance when the queen announces each couple "for better or worse." When the maske are removed the man hater and the woman hater are one couple, the agent of the oil corporation with Miss Tabitha, who has made large investments. The amateur detective with the would be movie star, who have planned to get married and go together to be movie stars, when the detective arrests the oil agent for bootlegging and clears Jim's college chum.

The specialties between the acts consisted of piano duets by Helen Packard and Irene Emery, violin solos by Sylvia McKeen accompanied by Margaret Lane, and a clog dance by Ruth Curtis, Annie Curtis and Doris Richardson in clown costume. The hall was full. They had ice cream on sale after the play and social games followed.

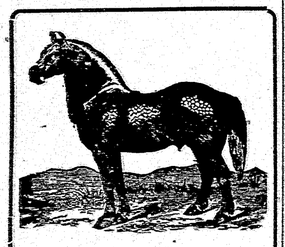
THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa. — "My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water. Once when we had been in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound." —Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGELIN, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for sale by all druggists.



We have plenty of good horses.
A good stock of Harnesses.

BOWLING

Velies 1885; Chevrolet 1792

Eight bowlers from Oxford picked sides Thursday night and not finding more appropriate names, selected from the automobile industry and made a road test.

The Velies hit the highway with considerable force in the first string, gaining 40 pins over the Chevrolet group. "Chevie" won the second and fourth strings on a narrow squeak but the Velies opened wide in the third and fifth and crossed the line will all cylinders carbon-free and the passengers on a joy ride.

Baxter led the whole bunch with 519 and "Stub" Fuller trailed in second with 489. Breton held up strong until a puncture in the fifth set him behind the field in that heat. "Fat" Smith hung up the best individual string with 122. Summary:

VELIES

Riley	94	91	92	75	88—440
Baxter	102	102	112	83	120—519
Quinn	96	85	105	90	77—453
Smith	93	122	86	85	87—473

Kay	81	91	70	75	79—396
Breton	89	95	99	92	73—448
Fuller	75	119	114	88	93—489
	345	403	371	341	332—1792

Chevrolet 1127; Velies 1098

Two teams from Oxford closed a deal at Parrin's Alleys, Monday evening, whereby the Chevrolet outfit climbed to the top in the third string and won the contest. "Fat" Smith carried away the honors with 126 in a single and 321 for the total. Good runs were made by Breton, Baxter and Riley. Summary follows:

VELIES

Riley	98	108	82—	288
Quinn	80	87	84—	251
Bonney	88	88	91—	267
Baxter	95	82	115—	292

Smith	95	100	126—	321
	354	366	407—	1127

Oxford 1091; Richville 1028

Apparently this is visitors' week for two teams from Oxford took over the bowling alley after the game, Monday night and continued the struggle. One team named "Richville" was not altogether a product of that hamlet, but so called in honor of Bonney, the lead-off man who lives there.

Oxford proved too classy for the group with a suburban name and worked the squeeze play after the first string. Breton mowed down the pins with a high average, finding the best single with 120 and highest total of 308. All others fell behind into the easy going contingent except for an occasional flash in single strings.

Following is the result:

RICHVILLE

Bonney	83	86	94—	263
Kay	85	84	78—	247
Smith	93	87	91—	271
Quinn	83	84	80—	247
	344	341	343—	1028

OXFORD

Breton	90	98	120—	308
Baxter	85	84	91—	260
Fuller	83	95	90—	268
Riley	82	81	92—	255
	340	358	393—	1091

Norway 1469; Oxford 1408

There was a regular clash, Friday evening, when some of the candle pin experts gathered at Parrin's and put across a lively three-string battle. Norway won in a brilliant finish after Oxford had the top perch with 16 pins at the close of the second string.

Norway closed the first session with a four-pin lead. Oxford averaged high in the second and had a margin of 20 pins for the string, and a lead of 16 pins for two strings. A blizzard of good luck fell into the arms of the Norwayites with four bowlers landing above the one hundred mark. This set the visitors behind 77 pins for the last string and 61 in the hole for the game.

Paul Boynton with 317 and "Fat" Smith on the 314 mark were topnotchers. "Rusty" Herrick and "Novie" Smith made up the second group knocking pins to the tune of 296 and 292, respectively. "Fat" Smith with 123 made the highest individual string. Summary:

OXFORD

Breton	84	99	97—	280
Riley	93	103	73—	269
McAllister	89	93	83—	265

PENNESSEEWASSEE STREAM A PUBLIC DUMP

Now the water is low in the stream above the cement bridge on Bridge street, a collection of miscellaneous junk lying on the bottom of the river is not a good advertisement.

The stream was cleared some little time ago but thoughtless persons are contributing auto tires, pails, cans, broken glassware and any old thing beyond use to this museum. Even discarded Christmas trees, hay and boxes have been observed floating calmly on the surface.

This collection is neither a thing of beauty nor a joy forever. The stuff not only clogs the stream but is repulsive to strangers viewing the surroundings from the bridge. The scene will not be found among those pictures booming Norway when the Board of Trade launches its advertising campaign.

We believe those responsible for the unsightly collection will contribute no more thus helping to make Norway more attractive.

The cleaning-up campaign might be extended to side streets and alleys where rubbish exists as an incubator de luxe for breeding flies and stench. Let's clean up on Patriots' Day, April 20, or before. Waving flags on street corners is not the only way to show patriotism and real citizenship. Good bone and muscle labor to prevent disease and safeguard the community, go a long distance in a practical way to make this spot in Maine a worthwhile place and attractive.

AGRICULTURAL CLASS NOTES

The incubator at the high school has been working overtime to produce chicks for members of the class. Four hundred eggs on the first setting dwindled to 288 on the first and second candling. Two hundred chicks hatched and 194 survived for the brooder.

The second four hundred gave 162 healthy chicks. Another hatch will start Saturday, containing eggs furnished by local poultry raisers.

This work, together with the care and feeding, is a part of the agricultural course, and practical.

Classes are taking field trips, pruning and grafting fruit trees, laying out orchards in reference to soil conditions and general location.

Now spring is at hand, project outlines are being arranged for summer work. These are schedules of fixed methods changed by each student to meet his local conditions and requirements. An accounting system is a part of the work.

LEGION MINSTRELS NEXT WEEK

The annual minstrel show under the auspices of the William H. Stone Post American Legion, will be held at Norway Opera House, Thursday and Friday, April 23-24. This promises to be a live show, up-to-date in every way and just bubbling with music and mirth.

A grand first part introducing one of the greatest surprises in local theatricals with a riot of color and novelty setting is promised. Jake Andrews, Chet Gates, Billy White, Ned Burnell, "Honey" MacDonald and Abe Klain are the blackface funsters. They will put over local material arranged for laughing purposes and each sing an end song of late construction. Donald B. Partridge will appear as interlocutor. Billy White will do a buck and wing.

The entire circle will include nineteen male vocalists. Soloists to appear are James Combellack, H. Walter Brown, Alexander Chapman and Hafold Moore. An orchestra of eight pieces will be grouped in the background with Miss Elizabeth Klain as director. This team will show professional style and snap the musical numbers along to the speed limit.

Something new for the second part is a musical skit with singing, dancing and novelties, grouped around a number of characters more or less eccentric. Cast is as follows:

Hiram Brown ..... "Jake" Andrews
Sam Green ..... Donald B. Partridge
Nellie Blye ..... Helen Kenyon
Jim DeLilly ..... Dave Klain
Chas. White ..... Dave Klain
Jim Smart ..... Lawrence Denison
Silas Brown ..... Howard Jewell
Waiters ..... Clarence MacDonald, Abe Klain
Dancing Dames—Eva Evirs in "Down Where the Daffodils Grow," with Annie Prince, Ella Decoteau, Rosie Merrill, Angeline Decoteau, Ruth Tracy and Thelma Tracy.
Cross-Word Cut-Ups—Helen Kenyon and Jake Andrews in "When My Sugar Walks Down the Street," with Madlyn Hayden, Phoebe Cobb, Ruth Holt, Junetta Dinsmore, Ida Gurney, Lucy Cobb.
The Musical Kids—Kenneth Goodwin, Billy Brown, Emery Wentzell, Bruce Brown, in ukelele specialty with singing and dancing.
"Just Suits" Quartette (the real goods)—Chester P. Gates, Alexander Chapman, H. W. Brown, Harold Moore.
Finale—"My Uncle Sam" with Edward L. Burnell as "Uncle Sam."

The Carnival

After the show Friday night, a real frolic and carnival with noise makers and fixings will provide sport. No pains will be spared to beat the record of previous years.

Two boards are open at Stone's, one for each night. Tickets have serial numbers for the two evenings and are good only for the evening for which they are checked. To avoid confusion with the ushers, and mortification, patrons should use care in presenting tickets, especially if holding pasteboards for both evenings. This matter is important and the management will appreciate the care that the patrons exercise to avoid misunderstandings.

A Gold Mine for Billy Walker

William B. Walker of Water Street, house painter and politician, has been spotted for a soft one and in line to increase his pile with little exertion. No more painting for Billy when he realizes some $120,000.00 on the contents of a secret pocket in a "portmanteau" alleged to be held up, pending settlement for a trial, etc.

This impossible windfall is the old letter bunkum of a prisoner incarcerated in Spain, reciting a "sob" story of bankruptcy. Unable to procure his baggage containing a sum of $360,000.00, he offers one-third of that sum to the kindly disposed sucker ever ready to fall into the skillet.

Similar stock letters have been received here the past few years and the prisoner still languishes in durance vile.

The catch is not apparent, but the scheme should receive a solar plexus blow for a knock-out.

Henry Albert Smart, aged 7 years, is the Angle Worm King and caters to local fishermen. Henry lives at 7 Water St., and his father's garden provides "those great wallopers" as the youthful merchant expresses it. He says "Fred Sanborn is my best customer and I save the fat ones for him." The proceeds go for baseballs, marbles and other necessities. Ernest Charles Patten, aged 4, is a side partner in the worm digging and they "whack up" on a gentleman's agreement.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pitts of Harrison spent the week end and Easter at her home on Green St.

Many votes for "Miss Norway" are not counted this week as in the past. The names of the contestants are not properly filled in and many are signed with initials. Votes to become valid must have a contestants full name and also name of the voter.

Seneca Club

The Seneca Club will hold its April meeting on the 20th. This is the annual meeting with election of officers. Hostesses are Mrs. Goldsmith, Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Titus. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wise. The following program on the topic "Health" will be given:

Roll Call. First Aid in Emergencies.....
Paper, Public Health Laws in Maine.....Mrs. Louada Stewart
Paper, Health Work in Our Schools.....Mrs. Ardelle Bartley
Paper, What Everyone Should Know About Germs.....Mrs. Agnes Morton
Discussion.....Club
(a) Health officers—selection duties, benefits
(b) Cooperation—parents, teachers, nurse, physicians.

Harold Gammon and L. Neil Lovejoy have been drawn for the traverse jury at Rumford during the May term.

The doors for the vault of the Paris Trust Company have arrived and are being put in place.

John Wight fractured his shoulder, Thursday, while assisting in taking down the Stowell house. He was removed to the Central Maine General Hospital at Lewiston, where the fracture was reduced, and returned home soon after. This is an unfortunate circumstance, following an operation performed at that hospital last fall.

Next Sunday will be Rev. G. L. McGlauflin's last Sunday at the Deering Memorial church. There will be special music by the choir under the leadership of Frank Knapp; Miss Edith Lowell, organist.

Miss Ruth M. Graves, stenographer in the Oxford Farm Bureau Extension office, has composed words and music for a song to be used by the Agricultural and Home Economics Clubs. Two verses and chorus laud Oxford County for its scenic beauty of mountain, lake and stream, and appeals to the young people for greater activity. Copies of the song have been sent to the several clubs and Miss Graves will give personal instruction.

An auction will be held at the Frank W. Cummings place, Maple Ridge, Harrison, Saturday, April 25, at 10 o'clock. See ad.

Works All the Soil

Rigs of the John Deere KC shift parallel—shovels always hold squarely to their work and cut full width of each gang—no spots are skipped—the KC works all the soil and kills the weeds.

John Deere KC Cultivator

Drive into the field, stay on the seat and make every adjustment with handy levers.

A perfect "set" made quickly—Lower the rigs with the master lever. Space them the desired distance with the spread lever—they spread equally at front and back. Secure the desired depth with the depth lever—shovels enter ground level and continue level as they are lowered.

Deeper or shallower adjustment of front or rear shovels can be made with the tilting lever—a big advantage when cultivating up or down slope.

Quick dodge can be made on crooked rows—pressure on the foot lever guides the wheels and shifts the rigs.

Your KC is here for you. Come in and see it. Get into the seat, work the levers and find out for yourself how easily the rigs are controlled for the best of cultivation.

Regarding Our Presidents

Editor of Norway Advertiser: I do not want to get you into the position of a person, or a newspaper, used as a medium for a quarrel, but it would be interesting to do a little analyzing of Mr. Rinaldo L. Cummings' latest outcry, in which he assails my comments on George Washington and Theodore Roosevelt.

He thinks that if I "discovered" a flaw in George Washington's character, the discovery is evidence that Clark must have "acquired the habit of gazing until he becomes dizzy, at small things under the microscope, even until he has lost his sense of proportion." It may be that the item in question is a small thing; that is a matter of judgment and I do not care to argue the question of my comparative superiority or inferiority of judgment on such a matter. But the fact itself should not be regarded as anything that I "discovered." It is a matter of history, easily proven, so easily that it is not disputed by those who have looked it up. Mr. Cummings appears indignant that the character of George Washington should be regarded as flawless. I called Washington a great man, and hardly see the reason for Mr. Cummings implying that I said otherwise. But, it is an unhealthful idea, which our school children and some others are getting, that Washington was a perfect man.

As for Roosevelt. Mr. Cummings runs wild when he discusses the tariff question, and certainly suggests that he considers it a good thing that Roosevelt side-stepped the issue during his seven years in the Presidency. That is not the point. The point is that Roosevelt promised to carry out the McKinley policies, chief of which was revision of the tariff, and Roosevelt broke the promise. Will Mr. Cummings defend Roosevelt's action in failing to keep his promise? Apparently he is not willing to stick to that point but wants to draw attention away from it to what Taft did about the tariff. The question is Roosevelt, not Taft.

As for the other Roosevelt matters. They do not appear so important as the question of his integrity, which question Mr. Cummings carefully avoids. As for his law breaking in official acts, there are many instances of it on record. In disputing that, Mr. Cummings simply shows that he has not kept informed on the matter. An instance of Roosevelt's habit of double crossing people— the people of the country—was his agitation against the meat packers followed, when the excitement had blown over, by the appointment of a special board in the agricultural department where friction proved to be the weakening of the rules for giving the people pure food. He issued executive orders right and left without stopping to learn what would be legal procedure. Perhaps the funniest of them was the order for the use of "improved spelling" in the Government publications, which was a violation of the statute regarding the authority on spelling.

As for the Hughes-Johnson incident. He classifies the Johnson official campaign statement as "blarney before election." Inasmuch as "blarney" means flattery, and nothing else, I fail to get his meaning. If the Hughes managers had ordered that Hughes should not meet Johnson, the Johnson men surely would have spread that fact, for it would have indicated that Hughes was the offender. Mr. Cummings' "understanding" of it is "too absurd to regard seriously."

But, there is one thing else that I would like to remark about our Presidents. Nineteen of the 29 have been members of the bar. Five of the 19 were men of that such profound knowledge of the law that their words on legal topics are eagerly sought today, by students of legal lore—Madison, Buchanan, Lincoln Benjamin Harrison, and the still living Taft. Only one of the five can be cited as a successful president. Lawyers who never made the profession their chief vocation, but always had enthralling interests in other fields, and who achieved notable success in the Presidency were Jefferson, Monroe, Jackson, Hayes and Cleveland. Analogous to these is John Quincy Adams who served with neither distinction nor humiliation as President, and later achieved a great reputation in Congress.

The consensus of expectation among the Washington correspondents, a body of shrewd judges indeed, is said to be that Coolidge will finally take a place with the group of Jefferson to Cleveland. Of the other lawyers, McKinley had his first term wrecked by the Spanish war and was killed too early in his second term for a fair testing of his powers, and none of the rest, John Adams, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Pierce, Garfield has left any impress on the country as a result of this personal force. Three other Presidents studied law but did not follow it as a vocation and are not reckoned here. The notion that I wish to express is that when a man becomes thoroughly steeped in the law, he gets to looking at things from a standpoint of precedents and rules to such an extent that he is likely to lose his capacity for executive action. The law has become his master, instead of he mastering the law. Does not that account for the weakness exhibited in the Chief Magistracy by men of such attainments as Madison, Buchanan, Benjamin Harrison, Taft, and possibly others?

—D. Cromett Clark.

OXFORD

Caldwell Buildings Burn

The set of buildings and contents owned by Adelbert F. Caldwell of Green Castle, Ind., and occupied by Henry Martin and family, were destroyed by fire set by a grass blaze, Thursday afternoon. The large grove in which is located the Oxford Boys' Camp, also owned and operated by Mr. Caldwell, was also threatened. The buildings burned were valued at $2,000, partially insured. All of the household goods, farm implements and carriages and automobiles were destroyed.

It is said that children set fire to the grass, Thursday afternoon. When they lost control of the flames, they told Mrs. Martin, who was alone in the house which is some distance from any other buildings. While she was gone for help, the entire set of buildings became enveloped in flames.

"What is life?" asked a public speaker the other day, while he held up his chin and kept one thumb in his watch pocket. There's nothing very deep about that question. Life is a mere interval between birth and death.

SAYS HER RECOVERY IS ALMOST LIKE A MIRACLE

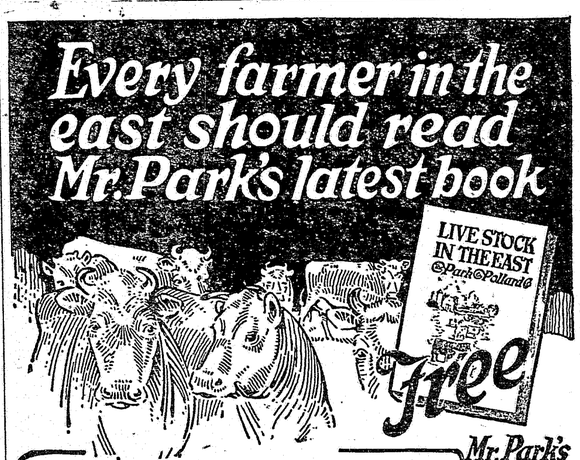
"I Just Wish Everybody Could See What Karnak Has Done For Me," Says New Hampshire Woman

"I just wish you could have seen me a year ago so you could realize what Karnak has done for me," was the enthusiastic state of Mrs. M. E. Patriquen, of 74 Deer St., Portsmouth, N. H.

"Two years ago I suffered a complete breakdown from a complication of troubles and I kept losing weight steadily until when I got Karnak recently I had gone down from one hundred and seventy-eight to one hundred and forty-eight pounds. I suffered from intestinal indigestion so dreadfully that gas would form and roll in my lower stomach and cause such terrible gnawing pains I could hardly stand them. I had terrible pains in my kidneys and sides and my arms and legs would swell up nearly twice their normal size. My liver was so disordered that my skin was covered with spots. I couldn't find anything to help me, and was awfully nervous and worried over my condition.

"I began to feel the effects of Karnak from the very start, and four bottles of this grand medicine has stopped me from losing weight and set me to gaining instead. The swelling has gone from my arms and legs, the nervousness has disappeared, my skin is rapidly clearing up, and I can actually eat potato ow without having indigestion. Ka...k has simply been a blessing to me for my recovery has been almost like a miracle."

Karnak is sold in Norway exclusively by Frank P. Stone; and by the leading druggist in every town.



Mr. Park's latest book send for yours today

Think of it! Heifers weighing 1500 lbs. at their first calving and only thirty months old.

They are going to make ton cows.

We have done this at our farm in Clarence, N. Y. with a group of registered Holstein heifers, and we can do it in your barn with equally good stock fed upon our Universal Ration.

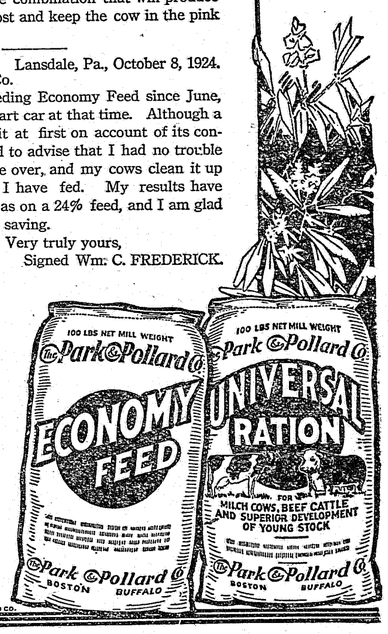
These heifers are going onto Economy Feed now and are producing as their size would indicate they should. What we want is a medium rich feed (20% protein is enough) properly backed by the right minerals. That is the combination that will produce milk at a minimum cost and keep the cow in the pink of condition.

Lansdale, Pa., October 8, 1924.

The Park & Pollard Co.

I have been feeding Economy Feed since June, having purchased a part car at that time. Although a little skeptical about it at first on account of its containing fish, I am glad to advise that I had no trouble in making the change over, and my cows clean it up as well as any feed I have fed. My results have been equally as good as on a 24% feed, and I am glad for the $10.00 per ton saving.

Very truly yours,
Signed Wm. C. FREDERICK.



It is the fish in the feeds, containing small delicate (pulverized), bones, producing phosphate of lime in its most easily assimilable form for the cattle.

Try the feeds in your own barn at our expense if they fail,—at your gain if they succeed..

FRYEBURG

The photoplay "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" was shown at K. of P. Hall, Thursday evening, for the benefit of Fryeburg Academy Athletic Association.

Charles Hutchins of Portland is visiting his mother in town.

Mrs. A. B. Turner of Montclair, N. J., and Sturgis D. Cook of Chicago are in town, called here by the serious illness of their mother, Mrs. Stella Cook, at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Louis A. Dole.

Mrs. Edith Whittaker has been confined to the house with a severe cold.

Dr. Harold Shedd of North Conway, N. H., was in town, Thursday, in consultation with Dr. Gregory.

Mrs. Emily Steadman and Miss Pansy Mayo spent Saturday in Portland.

Stuart Barrows of Boston has been in town for a few days.

Miss Alice Sloan of Conway, N. H., is visiting her cousins, Alice and Ruth Glines.

H. A. D. Hurd, music supervisor in the public schools and Fryeburg Academy, is working on extensive programs for National Music Week, which takes place early in May. Students of Fryeburg Academy, the elementary schools and piano pupils from North Conway will be included in the programs.

There was a Good Friday service at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Wilfred Springer, who has been employed as chef in a hotel in St. Petersburg, Fla., during the winter, has returned and reopened his bakery, Friday, for the summer months.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS AND VARNISHES

It is really surprising what a little paint or varnish will do toward brightening up dingy surroundings. Take Family Paint for instance. This is a linseed oil paint specially prepared for home decorating and painting. With it any one can renew the appearance of a hundred little things that now look worn and old. It dries with a good gloss and will stand scrubbing with soap and water. Comes in 26 attractive shades.

S-W Floorlac is another splendid household brightener. It is a stain and varnish combined and can be used on old or new woods equally well. Imitates the natural woods and gives a most pleasing effect. These offer a few hints for you.

Come in and have a "Brighten Up" talk with us and learn more about how we can help you in your house cleaning. Our line has a paint or varnish for every purpose.

Fashion Show

Miss Bridgton is to have a $9,000 Cadillac car for her use the day of the Fashion Show. Miss Norway is to have one of the best Buicks, Fryeburg is to have a Buick, Harrison a Cadillac and we have not booked the car for Miss Bethel yet.

The musical and Fashion Revue open up in a Japanese Rose Garden on the night of the Feast of the Lanterns. Through magic, the little Japanese girl gets her longed-for wish to see her American sisters. We have an extra fine chorus of ten beautiful girls. Our closing chorus which has 20 of our young people in it is one of the biggest features and introduces the winning contestant of each town.

Miss Elouise Brown, the solo dancer, who made such a hit at the Bridgton Carnival last year, with Miss Ellen Kimball, also a dancer of note, are to be seen in a duet dance in the evening.

We have been very fortunate in engaging Chester Curtis of Harrison and Mrs. LaVanci Staley of Bridgton, both artists in their line and both popular. Other artists that are to participate will be announced later.

The Bridgton date is May 14. Norton's orchestra, just back from a successful season in Florida, will play in all towns where the Fashion Show is staged.

Voting contest closes here on April 29.

Following is the standing of contestants in the "Miss Bridgton" contest.

Pearl Chandler	9626
Ellen Kimball	6494

NORTH LOVELL

Fire at Mills Place

The buildings of George Mills came near being burned, April 7. Mrs. Mills heard a crackling in the partition over the kitchen and on investigating they found that a fire was well started. The neighbors rallied to their assistance and after a hard fight put the fire out. They had to cut a hole in the roof to get the water onto the fire. It will be quite a loss but the buildings are insured.

The Sunday School here is prospering finely with a number of new scholars attending. Easter Sunday was observed by a goodly number present, good music, flowers and an attractive service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mills and children are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Andrews since the fire at their home.

Theodore McAllister went to Norway, Saturday.

Bessie Andrews is staying with Susie Wilson at Center Lovell anl helping with the housework.

Everyone is trying for some of the large smelts and some are quite successful. The ice will soon be out of the lake and then comes fishing for salmon and everyone will be trying for at least one fish.

To the Public:

I have just taken over the interests of my partners—Thomas Smiley and Albion L. Buck of Brown, Buck & Company and shall continue the business under the firm name of Fred S. Brown.

The same sound business principles for which I have been jointly responsible will be continued in the future, with an honest effort to improve our service to you wherever possible.

Our Ideals:

Honest merchandise—fairly priced—with service to you guaranteed. To have the newest fashions at all seasons, at one price to everyone, to render a service that brings customers and profits, as no store can endure without both.

Back in the year 1900, as a boy, I began work in this same store, then less than half its present size, and have been connected with it, directly and indirectly, ever since. Therefore, I feel that I know pretty well the kind of a store that you appreciate and expect in Norway, and shall do all in my power to give you the best dry goods store of any town in the state.

Reorganization sale begins Saturday, April 18, giving unusual values all over the store.

Signed,
FRED S. BROWN.

Fred S. Brown

Successor to Brown, Buck & Co.
